DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a method for determining an unknown starting quantity of a target nucleic acid sequence, comprising the steps of amplifying the unknown starting quantity, amplifying a plurality of known starting quantities, determining a respective threshold value, deriving a calibration curve, and determining the starting quantity, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - II. Claims 9-19, drawn to a method for determining an unknown starting quantity of a target nucleic acid sequence in a test sample, the method comprising the steps of: amplifying the target, amplifying a first standard and a second internal control, amplifying a second standard and a third internal control, determining a respective threshold value, normalizing the threshold value for the target, normalizing the threshold value for the first and second standards, deriving a calibration curve, and determining the starting quantity of the target, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - III. Claims 20-28, drawn to a method for determining an unknown starting quantity of a first nucleic acid sequence in a test sample, the method comprising the steps of: amplifying the first nucleic acid sequence, a first standard, and a second standard, determining a respective threshold value, deriving a calibration curve, and determining the starting quantity, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. They have different method steps, which require different components. For instance, Group II includes a step of normalization, which is not found in Group I.
3. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. The groups have different method steps, requiring different components. For example, Group II requires the use of an internal control, which Group III does not.
4. Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. They contain different method steps and require different components. For example, Group III requires that a second standard be amplified, while Group I does not.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, and that for Groups I and II is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
